March 24, 2006

CLEARWATER, FL. Bay to Bay Capital Partners, LLC (“Bay to Bay”), a private investment firm specializing in leveraged buyouts of market-leading companies, today announced that on March 20, 2006, one of its affiliates acquired all of the outstanding shares of Gator Door & Supply Company, Inc. (“Gator Door”) from C.E. Irwin, Gina Irwin, Gregory Irwin and the Marguerite Irwin Testamentary Trust. Gator Door, based in Gainesville, FL, is a leading regional supplier of pre-hung doors and millwork products including trim boards, mouldings, stair parts, locks and a variety of other related products. These products, produced in the company’s Gainesville and Brooksville facilities, are sold primarily to residential home builders in the west central and north central Florida markets. Gator Door employs approximately 55 people and has been in business for thirty years. Gator Door was represented by Alan Marrullier and Jackie Fimrite of Citigroup Capital Strategies a division of Citigroup Global Markets Inc.

Andy Fischer, Gator Door’s General Manager since 1998, will remain head of operations. “The staff of Gator Door is excited to partner with Bay to Bay Capital Partners,” said Fischer. “Our commitment will remain the same; to give our customers quality products and service – the foundation that Gator Door was built upon.”

C.E. Irwin, who founded Gator Door in 1976, believes the transition will be a smooth one. “My family and I are very pleased that the existing management team will remain in place. We would like to thank our valued customers and suppliers for their loyalty over the years” said Irwin.

“Over the last thirty years Mr. Irwin has done a tremendous job putting together a team of talented and hard-working employees to service Gator Door’s residential homebuilding customers. With the entire team in place, we will continue in that tradition and work very hard to be our customers’ most reliable partner,” said Eric Pogue, President and Founder of Bay to Bay Capital Partners.
